A TALE OF THE AMERICAN COLONIES.

By Osmon Tifferany, Esq.

12no. Cloth, $1.

This work possesses peculiar attractions. The sketches are instinct with a living and vivid power. The heroine of the story, Levy Tyrrell, is a real character; and the work is consequently quite as much matter of fact as fiction. It is a book in all repetts aneanerptionable, and in many respects worthy a place among the classic literature of the land." [N. Y. Newa.

"This is a work of high literary mortt, and of unusual interest to American readers. It illustrates the most interesting period of our history—the age of American chivalry; and it gives us a use picture of the opinions and habits as well as leading persuages of that excitful period." [Springfield Republican.

EMIGRATION to OCEANICA.—A project is Occanics. The projector has visited this region, and has carefully matured a pian of emigration and settlement. 229 secures pro rata share in vessel going out, and section of land. No civilized power claims the territory. Natives, a simple inoffensive race, few in numbers, and without political organization. A neighboring chieffain, who claims sovereignty over pearl and tripang fisheries of its coasts, ecdes his right for a trife. The forests abound to valuable gums, dyes, and fancy woods, from such that a submit is a valuable return stage can be specifyly procured, from and tin are found; and probably coal, being found on an island in the vicinity. The soil of low grounds admirably fitted for coffee, cottou and sugar case; the latter indigenous, and on table lands, products of our climate successfully raised. Abundance of the cheapest and most easily managed labor in the world, mear without. The point of settlement, an elevated plateau, contignous to a deep, spacious, and locked harbor; which will be ma position to control a lucrative insular trade with China. Convenient and ready markets in Australia. Climate delightfully thermometer range, 90° to 32° Patr. On table lands, cool, in vigorating air. A company partly formed; full complement 50°, a few more fivited to join to sail middle Movember text; so as to have summer going round the Cape, and arrive in fudian essa, commencement of South East monscon, the constant spring of Occatican weather.
